

Consider critical illness insurance—even if you have a good medical plan

Many people aren't financially prepared for the unexpected costs of a serious illness. Even a good medical plan can leave you with out-of-pocket expenses.[‡] You may have to pay deductibles, co-pays, and everyday expenses, while making up for salary from time off from work.

Critical illness insurance can help provide a financial cushion so you can stay on track financially and focus on your recovery.

→ Answers to frequently asked questions

I have a good medical plan, so why do I need critical illness insurance?

Critical illness insurance works to complement your medical coverage—paying in addition to what your medical plan may or may not cover.

It pays a lump sum amount directly to you to use however you choose, like for out-of-pocket* medical costs such as deductibles, co-pays, or non-covered services. You can even use it to pay for everyday living expenses, like babysitters and take-out food, making recovery easier and helping you safeguard your savings.

What types of conditions are covered?

Critical illness insurance, issued by The Prudential Insurance Company of America (Prudential), pays you for a variety of medical conditions including, but not limited to:

- Alzheimer's Disease
- Cancer--invasive or in situ
- Coma
- Coronary Artery Disease (severe)
- Heart Attack
- Major Organ failure
- Renal (Kidney) failure
- Paralysis
- Stroke

Every 40 seconds someone has a stroke in the U.S.[†]

Monthly employee coverage[‡] may cost less than the allowance for a 10-year old.^{}

How much would it cost?

Critical illness insurance may cost less than you think. It's designed to be an affordable way to complement your current medical plan.

Do I have to answer medical questions to get this coverage?

No. You're guaranteed coverage regardless of your health when you enroll during your annual open enrollment period or if you experience a qualifying event. You just need to be actively at work on the day your coverage starts.

Is my family eligible to enroll for this coverage?

Yes. You can choose coverage for yourself as well as eligible family members.

Can I keep my coverage if I change jobs or retire?

Yes, If you change jobs or retire, you can take your coverage with you and continue paying the same group rates.

What additional benefits are included in the plan?

Wellness benefit^{††}: Every year, each covered person can receive $50 for getting one covered health screening test, such as a blood test, chest x-rays, stress tests, colonoscopies, and mammograms.

Transportation benefit: This benefit pays you for travel expenses associated with a covered person's round-trip travel between his/her primary residence and a hospital or medical facility.

Lodging benefit: You can receive $100 per day if a companion is accompanying a covered person while hospitalized.

Are filing claims really that simple?

Our claims process is as easy as 1, 2, 3:

1. Log in to: www.prudential.com/mybenefits. First-time users: Click "Register Now."

Scan the QR code using your mobile device camera or a QR app.

2. Select "My claims" from the left side menu and click on the option to "File a claim/Report an absence."

3. Give us permission to get information from your doctor, so you don't have to.

We'll notify you when a claim decision is reached and send payments directly to you. [We'll also auto-pay a critical illness claim due to an eligible disability or absence claim.]

^{*}Benefits can be used for medical and non-medical purposes.
